

Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/07/27 : CIA-RDP87M00539R000700930009-1

DOCUMENTS CROSS-REFERENCED

ATTACHED:

CR 85-1258/⁸
DI 01824/85¹
DI 01420/1 -85
DDI 85-02184

DDI-~~02184~~/85

25 APR 1985

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
Deputy Director for Intelligence

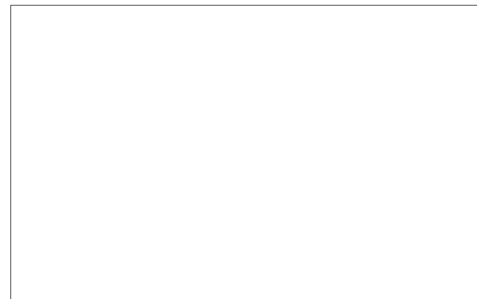

FROM:
Director of Global Issues

SUBJECT: Conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, 3-4 June 1985

1. Action: Your signature on the attached letters.

2. Background: A couple of our invited guests are unable to attend the Structural Change Conference on 3-4 June 1985. We have selected two well qualified replacements and each one has agreed to attend if invited.

Attachments:
As stated

100 100 100
B-300

SUBJECT: Conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, 3-4 June 1985.

Distribution:

Orig. & 1 - Addressee
1 - DDCI
1 - Ex. Reg.
1 - DDI
1 - ADDI
1 - D/OGI
1 - CTID
1 - CTID/CF

STAT OGI/CTID/ 22 Apr 85

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D. C. 20505

DDI-02184/85/1

24

9 APR 1985

Dr. John L. McLucas
Executive Vice President and Chief Strategic Officer
Communications Satellite Corporation
Washington, D. C. 20024

Dear Dr. McLucas:

I understand that Julian Nall has recently discussed with you the special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C. I hope you will accept my personal invitation to attend.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present an overview address, approximately 20 minutes in length, on the security implications of structural change in terms of strategic vulnerability and dependence. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D. C. 20505

02184/85/2

29 APR 1985

Mr. James Fallows
The Atlantic Monthly
4780 Dexter Street, N.W.
Washington, D. C. 20007

Dear Mr. Fallows:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present a luncheon address drawing on your recent article in the Atlantic Monthly on structural change in the United States. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,
/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

C O N F E R E N C E P R O G R A M

Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change

The Washington Hilton, Washington, D.C.
3 - 4 June 1985

1. CONFERENCE OBJECTIVE

The main purpose of this conference will be (a) to increase understanding among senior U.S. Government officials responsible for economic and security policy about the nature and implications of structural change; and (b) to bring some coherence to an extremely broad issue that has tended to mean different things to different observers. Following shortly after the Bonn Economic Summit, at which structural change will be a central issue, the conference is expected to result in a range of questions that can and should be addressed by intelligence analysis in the years to come.

2. DEFINITION OF THE ISSUE

To focus and facilitate meaningful discussion, it is hoped that a single definition of "structural change" can consistently be used for the conference. In this connection, structural change -- as distinguished from cyclical, secular or historical change -- may be envisaged as the transformation over time of the relative importance of components of a national economy. It has resulted in most countries principally from technological advance. Major structural changes can involve shifts in the relative importance of economic sectors (agriculture, manufacturing, services) as well as particular industries (smokestack, high-tech, etc.); shifts between regions of large national economies; and changes in the composition of imports and exports. All of these have far-reaching political, social, military and diplomatic implications. Expansion in an economy as a whole is not included in this definition, however, nor are temporary shifts in the relationships among its components as a result of cyclical developments.

3. SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ISSUE

The issue of structural change is important for national security because it encompasses some of the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments, to which policy directly or indirectly responds.

The central thesis is that structural change almost inevitably has differential effects on different countries (and on regions within countries, as well as regions composed of several countries). Some nations will therefore fare better than others as they undergo structural change. The Intelligence Community has a responsibility to provide information and analysis to support policies ensuring the US position in the former category -- or at a minimum to anticipate and assess the possible consequences of being in the latter.

4. PROVISIONAL CONFERENCE AGENDA

DAY I. TECHNOLOGY AND STRUCTURAL CHANGE

Moderator: Office of Global Issues

- 8:30 - 9:00 Coffee and pastries
- 9:00 - 9:10 Welcoming remarks
William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
- 9:10 - 9:30 Keynote for Day I
"Defining the Problem: The Inevitability of Structural Change"
Leo Cherne
President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board
- 9:30 - 9:50 Structural Change and the Future of the International Economic System
Overview: Peter G. Peterson
Chairman, Peterson, Jacobs and Company
- 9:50 - 10:10 Structural Change and International Competitiveness
Overview: C. Fred Bergsten
Director, Institute for International Economics
- 10:10 - 10:30 Break
- 10:30 - 11:15 Panel discussion:
Charles P. Kindleberger, MIT emeritus
Mordechai Kreinin, Michigan State University
Rimmer deVries, Morgan Guaranty Trust Company
- 11:15 - 12:00 Open discussion (all conference participants)
- 12:00 - 1:00 Lunch (Speaker: James Fallows, Washington editor of The Atlantic)

- 1:30 - 1:50 Structural Change, Adjustment and Protectionism:
The Coming Trade Wars?
Overview: Roy Moor
Chief Economist, First Chicago Bank
- 1:50 - 2:35 Panel discussion:
Robert E. Baldwin, University of Wisconsin
Howard Rosen, Institute for International Economics
[redacted] Office of Global Issues
- 2:35 - 3:05 Open discussion
- 3:05 - 3:25 Break
- 3:25 - 3:45 Implications of Structural Change for Third World
Economies: Winners and Losers
Overview: Richard Feinberg
Overseas Development Council
- 3:45 - 4:30 Panel discussion:
Henry Owen, Consultants International Group
Kent Calder, Princeton University
Peter Morici, National Planning Association
- 4:30 - 5:00 Open discussion
- 5:00 - 6:30 Cocktails

DAY II. GEOPOLITICAL IMPLICATIONS OF STRUCTURAL CHANGE
Moderator: [redacted] Office of Global Issues

- 8:30 - 9:00 Coffee and pastries
- 9:00 - 9:20 Keynote for Day II
"Assessing Structural Change from the Standpoint of Intelligence Analysis"
James R. Schlesinger
Georgetown Center for Strategic and International Studies
- 9:20 - 9:40 Implications of Structural Change for the Western Alliance
Overview: Robert Gilpin
Princeton University
- 9:40 - 10:25 Panel discussion:
Robert Keohane, Brandeis University
Michael Aho, Council on Foreign Relations
[redacted] Office of European Analysis

10:25 - 10:45 Break

10:45 - 11:30 Open discussion

11:45 - 12:45 Lunch (Speaker: Robert J. Samuelson, syndicated columnist, Newsweek magazine)

1:00 - 1:20 Structural Change and East-West Relations
Overview: Raymond Vernon
Harvard University

1:20 - 2:00 Panel discussion:
Robert Campbell, Indiana University
[redacted] Centre for Soviet Studies
[redacted] Office of Soviet Analysis

2:00 - 2:30 Open discussion

2:30 - 2:50 Break

2:50 - 3:10 Structural Change and National Security:
Implications for Strategic Vulnerability and Dependence
Overview: John L. McLucas
Executive Vice President, COMSAT Corporation

3:10 - 3:55 Panel discussion:
Klaus Knorr, Princeton University
Stephen Krasner, Stanford University
[redacted] Office of Global Issues

3:55 - 4:20 Open discussion

4:20 - 4:30 Concluding remarks
John N. McMahon
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

EXECUTIVE SECRETARIAT
ROUTING SLIP

TO:

		ACTION	INFO	DATE	INITIAL
1	DCI
2	DDCI
3	EXDIR
4	D/ICS
5	DDI
6	DDA
7	DDO
8	DDS&T
9	Chm/NIC
10	GC
11	IG
12	Compt
13	D/Pers
14	D/OLL
15	D/PAO
16	SA/IA
17	AO/DCI
18	C/IPD/OIS
19	NIO
20	D/OGT		X
21
22
SUSPENSE		Date _____

Remarks

Executive Secretary

29 Apr 85

Date

STANFORD UNIVERSITY
STANFORD, CALIFORNIA 94305

Executive Registry
85- 1258/10

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

April 24, 1985

Mr. William J. Casey
Director, Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

I am happy to accept your invitation to participate in the agency's conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change and to participate in the panel discussion on the security implications of structural change in terms of vulnerability and dependence.

Sincerely,

Stephen D. Krasner
Professor

EXECUTIVE SECRETARIAT ROUTING SLIP

TO:

		ACTION	INFO	DATE	INITIAL
1	DCI
2	DDCI
3	EXDIR
4	D/ICS
5	DDI
6	DDA
7	DDO
8	DDS&T
9	Chm/NIC
10	GC
11	IG
12	Compt
13	D/Pers
14	D/OLL
15	D/PAO
16	SA/IA
17	AO/DCI
18	C/IPD/OIS
19	NIO
20	D/OGI	X
21	ER
22	ER
		Date

SUSPENSE

Remarks

Attached are three more responses on the Conference on Structural Change.

ER Executive Secretary

26 Apr 85

Date

3637 (10-81)

INDIANA UNIVERSITY

RUSSIAN AND EAST EUROPEAN INSTITUTE
Ballantine Hall 565
Bloomington, Indiana 47405
(812) 335-7309
(812) 335-0391

Executive Registry
85-	1258/9

April 24, 1985

Mr. William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, DC 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

Thank you very much for the invitation to participate in the conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change. I will be pleased to do so, and to be a member of the panel on "Structural Change and East-West Relations."

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Robert W. Campbell".

Robert W. Campbell
Director

RWC:sln

B-300

HARVARD UNIVERSITY
CENTER FOR BUSINESS AND GOVERNMENT

Executive Registry

85-

1258/8

RAYMOND VERNON
Clarence Dillon Professor of International Affairs Emeritus

*John F. Kennedy School of Government
Weil Hall
79 John F. Kennedy Street
Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138
(617) 495-1145*

April 19, 1985

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, DC 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

Thanks a lot for the invitation contained in your letter of April 9.
I shall plan to attend your conference on June 3 and 4, and shall be sending you a copy of my proposed statement in a few weeks.

Sincerely yours,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads 'Raymond Vernon'. The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal stroke at the end.

Raymond Vernon

RV/vg

B-300

Executive Registry
85-	1258/7

Roy E. Moor
Senior Vice President
Chief Economist

April 19, 1985

Mr. William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

Thank you for inviting me to attend the Agency's conference on Economic and Security Implications on Structural Change to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.
I accept the invitation with pleasure and look forward to participating.

Sincerely,

REM/smd

B-300

EXECUTIVE SECRETARIAT
ROUTING SLIP

TO:		ACTION	INFO	DATE	INITIAL
1	DCI
2	DDCI
3	EXDIR
4	D/ICS
5	DDI
6	DDA
7	DDO
8	DDS&T
9	Chm/NIC
10	GC
11	IG
12	Compt
13	D/Pers
14	D/OLL
15	D/PAO
16	SA/IA
17	AO/DCI
18	C/IPD/OIS
19	NIO
20	D/OGI	X
21
22
ER.		SUSPENSE _____
		Date _____

Remarks

Attached are three responses regarding the Conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change. Please take necessary action to answer questions raised.

Executive Secretary

22 Apr 85

Date

3637 (10-81)

STAT
STAT

Brandeis University

Department of Politics

Olin-Sang/204B
Waltham, Massachusetts
02254

617-647-2902

Executive Registry

85- 1258/6

19 April 1985

Mr. William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

I accept your invitation to attend a two-day conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held at the Washington Hilton Hotel on June 3-4, and to participate in a panel discussion on the implications of structural change for the Western alliance.

Presumably your assistants will send details about travel arrangements and accommodations.

Sincerely yours,

Robert O. Keohane
Professor of Political Science

Executive Registry

85- 1258/5

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS • MARSHALL HALL

EAST LANSING • MICHIGAN • 48824-1038

April 18, 1985

The Honorable William J. Casey, Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Director Casey:

Thank you for your letter of April 9, 1985, and the attached documents.

I shall be happy to attend the two day conference (June 3-4), and to participate in the panel discussion on the morning of June 3, 1985.

Sincerely yours,

M. Kreinin

Mordechai Kreinin
Professor of Economics

mb

Executive Registry

85- 1258/4

CHARLES P. KINDLEBERGER
BOX 306
LINCOLN CENTER, MASS. 01773
(617) 259-8293

April 17, 1985

Mr. William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey,

I shall be pleased to participate in the two-day Agency Conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change on June 3 and 4.

May I assume that the Central Intelligence
Agency will make a reservation for me at the Washington
Hilton for June 2 and 3, or should I undertake that myself?

Sincerely yours,

Charles P. Kindleberger

b. 300

EXECUTIVE SECRETARIAT
ROUTING SLIP

TO:

		ACTION	INFO	DATE	INITIAL
1	DCI
2	DDCI
3	EXDIR
4	D/ICS
5	DDI
6	DDA
7	DDO
8	DDS&T
9	Chm/NIC
10	GC
11	IG
12	Compt
13	D/Pers
14	D/OLL
15	D/PAO
16	SA/IA
17	AO/DCI
18	C/IPD/OIS
19	NIO
20	D/OGI		X
21
22

SUSPENSE _____ Date _____

Remarks

Executive Secretary

18 Apr 85
Date

3637 (10-81)

85

1253/2

Chairman
WALTER STERLING SURREY
Chairman of the Executive Committee
MURRAY H. FINLEY
President
EDWARD E. MASTERS
Vice Chairmen
MARVIN DUNCAN
JOHN MILLER
Treasurer
STEPHEN C. EYRE
Secretary
WILLIAM W. WINPISINGER
Vice Presidents
SPERRY LEA
PETER G. MORICI
LARRY E. RUFF
WAYNE E. SWEGLE
NESTOR E. TERLECKYJ

April 17, 1985

Mr. William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

I will be delighted to attend the June 3-4 conference on the Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change.

As requested by your staff, enclosed is my resume.

Sincerely,

Peter Morici
Vice President

Enclosure

TRUSTEES
W.B. BEHNKE
PHILIP BRIGGS
KENNETH J. BROWN
ROBERT K. BUCK
EDWARD J. CARLOUGH
SOL C. CHAIKIN
JACK G. CLARKE
JACOB CLAYMAN
G.A. COSTANZO
EDWARD L. CUSHMAN
JOHN DIEBOLD
THOMAS W. diZEREGA
WILLIAM D. EBERLE
ROBERT M. FREDERICK
ROBERT R. FREDERICK
RALPH W. GOLBY
JEROME S. GORE
TERRY HERNDON
R.J. HILDRETH
DALE M. HOOVER
G. GRIFFITH JOHNSON, JR.
MARY GARDINER JONES
PETER T. JONES
EDWARD G. JORDAN
LANE KIRKLAND
PETER F. KROGH
WILLIAM J. McDONOUGH
JOHN W. MACY, JR.
CHARLES MARSHALL
FRANK D. MARTINO
WILLIAM R. MILLER
HARRY E. MORGAN, JR.
RODNEY W. NICHOLS
WILLIAM S. OGDEN
RUDOLPH A. OSWALD
DEAN P. PHYPPERS
GEORGE J. POULIN
S. FRANK RAFTERY
RALPH RAIKES
JOHN S. REED
THOMAS A. REED
CARL E. REICHARDT
WILLIAM D. ROGERS
STANLEY H. RUTTENBERG
HOWARD D. SAMUEL NATHANIEL SAMUELS
RICHARD J. SCHMEELK
REX A. SEBASTIAN
LAUREN K. SOTH
ELMER B. STAATS
JOHN STENCEL
MILAN STONE
ALEXANDER C. TOMLINSON
J.C. TURNER
THOMAS N. URBAN
JAMES D. WATSON
GLENN E. WATTS
WILLIAM L. WEARLY
GEORGE L-P WEAVER
LLOYD B. WESCOTT
RICHARD W. WHEELER
LYNN R. WILLIAMS
ROBERT A. WILSON
CHARLES G. WOOTTON
RALPH S. YOHE

Honorary Trustees
SOLOMON BARKIN
LUTHER H. GULICK
JAMES G. PATTON

DCI
EXEC
RE

B-300

Page Denied

Next 1 Page(s) In Document Denied

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

The Honorable James R. Schlesinger
Georgetown Center for Strategic and International Studies
Washington, D.C. 20006

Dear Jim:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present a keynote address, approximately 20 minutes in length, concerning assessment of structural change from the standpoint of intelligence analysis. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Bill Casey".

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Professor Stephen D. Krasner
Stanford University
Stanford, California 94305

Dear Professor Krasner:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on the security implications of structural change in terms of strategic vulnerability and dependence. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Mr. Peter G. Peterson
Chairman
Peterson, Jacobs and Company
New York, New York 10152

Dear Mr. Peterson:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present an overview address, approximately 20 minutes in length, on structural change, adjustment and protectionism. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Professor Charles P. Kindleberger
Box 306
Lincoln Center, Massachusetts 01773

Dear Professor Kindleberger:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on the determinants of structural change and its consequences for international competitiveness. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Professor Robert Koehane
Bradeis University
Waltham, Massachusetts 02154

Dear Professor Koehane:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on the implications of structural change for the Western alliance. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Dr. Roy Moor
Senior Vice President and Chief Economist
The First National Bank of Chicago
Chicago, Illinois 60670-0476

Dear Dr. Moor:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present an overview address, approximately 20 minutes in length, on structural change and international competitiveness. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Professor Robert W. Campbell
Indiana University
Bloomington, Indiana 47405

Dear Professor Campbell:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on the implications of structural change for East-West relations. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Professor Raymond Vernon
Harvard College
Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138

Dear Professor Vernon:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present an overview address, approximately 20 minutes in length, on the implications of structural economic change for East-West relations. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,
/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Professor Mordechai E. Kreinen
Michigan State University
East Lansing, Michigan 48824

Dear Professor Kreinen:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on the determinants of structural change and its consequences for international competitiveness. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Professor Robert E. Baldwin
University of Wisconsin
Madison, Wisconsin 53706

Dear Professor Baldwin:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on structural change, adjustment and protectionism. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Mr. Howard Rosen
Institute for International Economics
Washington, D.C. 20036

Dear Mr. Rosen:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on structural change, adjustment and protectionism. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1965

Ambassador Henry D. Owen
Consultants International Group, Inc.
Washington, D.C. 20006

Dear Ambassador Owen:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on the implications of structural change for third world economies. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Professor Kent Calder
Princeton University
Princeton, New Jersey 08540

Dear Professor Calder:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on the implications of structural change for third world economies. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Mr. Peter Morici
National Planning Association
Washington, D.C. 20036

Dear Mr. Morici:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on the implications of structural change for third world economies. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Dr. Michael Aho
Council on Foreign Relations
New York, New York 10021

Dear Dr. Aho:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on the implications of structural change for the Western alliance. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Mr. Robert J. Samuelson
Newsweek Magazine
Washington, D.C. 20006

Dear Mr. Samuelson:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present a luncheon address on structural changes in the U.S. economy. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Dr. C. Fred Bergsten
Director
Institute for International Economics
Washington, D.C. 20036

Dear Dr. Bergsten:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present an overview address, approximately 20 minutes in length, on the nature and determinants of structural change. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Professor Klaus Knorr
Princeton University
Princeton, New Jersey 08540

Dear Professor Knorr:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on the security implications of structural change in terms of strategic vulnerability and dependence. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Dr. Rimmer deVries
Senior Vice President, International Economics
Morgan Guaranty Trust Company
New York, New York 10015

Dear Dr. deVries:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on the determinants of structural change and its consequences for international competitiveness. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Professor Robert Gilpin
Princeton University
Princeton, New Jersey 08540

Dear Professor Gilpin:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present an overview address, approximately 20 minutes in length, on the implications of structural change for the Western alliance. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

DDI-01420/1-85

Washington, D.C. 20505

28 March 1985

Mr. Leo Cherne

STAT

Dear Leo:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on the economic and security implications of structural change, to be held 3-4 June in the Washington area.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the Administration and recognized experts on issues involved in structural change. I consider the issue of structural change to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments, in the United States and worldwide. I want to ensure that the Agency fully understands and appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of experts such as you.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present the keynote address of approximately 20 minutes, defining structural change and its economic and political implications. Your presentation, which could be outlined in a brief discussion paper to be distributed in advance, would be followed by discussion among a panel of experts.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Yours,

Bill

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

B 300

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Mr. Robert D. Hormats
Vice President
Goldman Sachs and Company
New York, New York 10004

Dear Mr. Hormats:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to participate in a panel discussion on structural change, adjustment and protectionism. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Dr. Albert D. Wheelon
Senior Vice President and Group President
Hughes Aircraft Corporation
El Segundo, California 90245

Dear Dr. Wheelon:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present an overview address, approximately 20 minutes in length, on the security implications of structural change in terms of strategic vulnerability and dependence. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

DDI-01824/85

05 APR 1985

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
Deputy Director for Intelligence

STAT FROM:
Director of Global Issues

SUBJECT: Conference on Economic and Security
Implications of Structural Change, 3-4 June 1985

1. Action: Your signature on the attached letters.

2. Background: Leo Cherne has accepted your invitation to give the keynote address for the conference OGI is organizing on structural change. As speakers we are inviting experts from academia, industry, and government who have been working on various facets of structural change. Letters of invitation to these individuals are attached; the letters are identical with the exception of references in the third paragraph to the invitees' areas of expertise and speaking topics. A sample of the conference program to be sent with each letter is also attached.

3. While we have broached the idea of the conference with each of the possible participants and received a positive response, we believe that an indication of your personal interest would help in securing the level of private sector executives and academicians needed to make this a successful and productive conference. Your direct involvement will convey the importance the Agency attaches to this effort.

STAT

Attachments:
As stated

DCI
EXEC
REG

B-300

Distribution:

Orig and 1 - Addressee

1 - DDCI

1 - EX Reg

1 - DDI

1 - ADDI

1 - D/OGI

1 - Admin

1 - CTID

1 - CTID/CF

STAT OGI/CTID/CF, (4 Apr 85)

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

9 APR 1985

Mr. Bruce Nussbaum
Manhattan, Inc.
New York, New York 10170

Dear Mr. Nussbaum:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present a luncheon address drawing on your recent book, The World After Oil, on technology and structural change. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

8 APR 1981

Dr. Richard Feinberg
Vice President
Overseas Development Council
Washington, D.C. 20036

Dear Dr. Feinberg:

I invite you to attend a special two-day Agency conference on Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, to be held 3-4 June in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of this conference is to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications, and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the administration and recognized experts on various facets of structural change. I consider this issue to have important national security implications because it encompasses the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments in the United States and internationally. I want to ensure that the Agency fully appreciates the viewpoints and perspectives of those whose expertise is essential to our understanding of these subjects.

Because of your extensive work in the area, I am hopeful you will be willing to present an overview address, approximately 20 minutes in length, on the implications of structural change for Third World economies. Enclosed for your reference is a concept paper outlining the objectives, scope, and provisional agenda of the conference.

Attendance at this conference will be limited to senior members of the Executive Branch, Congressional staff, Agency personnel and invited private-sector representatives. I hope you will join us. Your participation will ensure that this conference will be a successful endeavor.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Enclosure

EXECUTIVE SECRETARIAT

ROUTING SLIP

TO:

		ACTION	INFO	DATE	INITIAL
1	DCI		X
2	DDCI		X
3	EXDIR
4	D/ICS
5	DDI	X
6	DDA
7	DDO
8	DDS&T
9	Chm/NIC
10	GC
11	IG
12	Compt
13	D/Pers
14	D/OLL
15	D/PAO
16	SA/IA
17	AO/DCI
18	C/IPD/OIS
19	NIO
20	D/OGI		X
21
22
SUSPENSE		Date _____

Remarks

Executive Secretary

10 Apr 85

Date

3637 (10-81)

Executive Registry

65- 1258/1

Lee Harvey

*Executive Director
The Research Institute of America, Inc.
589 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017*

April 4, 1985

The Honorable William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Bill:

I have just received your important invitation to attend and address the two-day Agency conference on structural change to be held on June 3-4. This is a brief letter to say that I will without fail fulfill the responsibility which has been suggested. I will deliver the keynote address of approximately 20 minutes and prepare that address in ample time for it to be circulated. I am increasingly persuaded that few if any subjects are of greater importance than those which are so unsatisfactorily lumped under the non-descriptive title "structural change." I will be honored to participate.

With my warm regards,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to be 'Lee Harvey', written in a cursive style.

B-300

Distribution:

Orig and 1 - Addressee
1 - DDCI
1 - EX Reg
1 - DDI
1 - ADDI
1 - D/OGI
1 - Admin
1 - CTID
1 - CTID/CF

STAT OGI/CTID/CF, (8 Mar 85)

Executive Registry

85-

1258

21 MAR 1985

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

FROM:

Director of Global Issues

SUBJECT: Conference on Structural Change

1. Action: Consent to give closing address on the afternoon of 4 June 1985.

2. Background: Over the past few months I have been discussing structural change with Leo Cherne. This issue has important national security implications because it encompasses some of the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments. OGI is planning a conference to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the Administration and experts in the field. We are inviting speakers who have been working in this area from academia, industry, and government. Leo Cherne has already agreed to give the first presentation, defining structural change and its political and economic implications. We plan to invite senior members of the Departments of State, Treasury, Commerce, and Defense, the National Security Council, and the Office of the US Trade Representative. We are also asking the Director to give the welcoming address and sign letters of invitation to the speakers and other participants.

3. We believe that your personal involvement would greatly enhance our ability to attract appropriate individuals in the policymaking community. Needless to say, if you agree to make the concluding remarks, we will provide talking points well in advance of the session.

Attachment:
Conference Program

DCI
EXEC
REG

B 300

Distribution:

Original - Addressee

1 - Ex Reg

1 - D/OGI

1 - Admin

1 - CTID

1 - CTID/CF

STAT
OGI/CTID/CF (8 Mar 85)

DDI- 101420/85

13 MAR 1985

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
Deputy Director for Intelligence

FROM:
Director of Global Issues

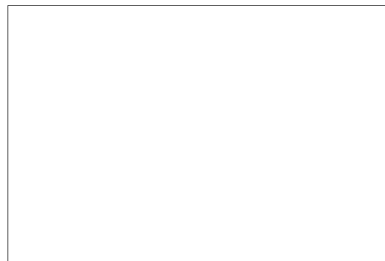

SUBJECT: Conference on Structural Change

1. Action: Consent to give welcoming address on the morning of 3 June 1985, and to sign letters of invitation to speakers and discussants. Attached is a letter for your review and signature inviting Leo Cherne who has already agreed to give the first presentation, defining structural change and its political and economic implications. Request that you sign letters to other participants as we get concurrence on their availability.

2. Background: Over the past few months, I have been discussing the issue of structural change with Leo Cherne. The issue of structural change has important national security implications because it encompasses some of the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments. OGI is planning a conference to improve our understanding of structural change and its implications and to promote a dialogue between top policymakers in the Administration and experts in the field. We are inviting speakers who have been working in this area from academia, industry, and government. We plan to invite senior members of the Departments of State, Treasury, Commerce, and Defense, the National Security Council, and the Office of the US Trade Representative.

3. We believe that your personal involvement would greatly enhance our ability to attract appropriate individuals in the policymaking community. Needless to say, if you agree to make the opening remarks, we will provide talking points well in advance of the session.

Attachments:
As stated

[Handwritten signature]

C O N F E R E N C E P R O G R A M

Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change

The Washington Hilton, Washington, D.C.

June 3 - 4, 1985

1. CONFERENCE OBJECTIVE

The main purpose of this conference will be (a) to increase understanding among senior U.S. Government officials responsible for economic and security policy about the nature and implications of structural change; and (b) to bring some coherence to an extremely broad issue that has tended to mean different things to different observers. Following shortly after the Bonn Economic Summit, at which structural change will be a central issue, the conference is expected to result in a range of questions that can and should be addressed by intelligence analysis in the years to come.

2. DEFINITION OF THE ISSUE

To focus and facilitate meaningful discussion, it is hoped that a single definition of "structural change" can consistently be used for the conference. In this connection, structural change -- as distinguished from cyclical, secular or historical change -- may be envisaged as the transformation over time of the relative importance of components of a national economy. It has resulted in most countries principally from technological advance. Major structural changes can involve shifts in the relative importance of economic sectors (agriculture, manufacturing, services) as well as particular industries (smokestack, high-tech, etc.); shifts between regions of large national economies; and changes in the composition of imports and exports. All of these have far-reaching political, social, military and diplomatic implications. Expansion in an economy as a whole is not included in this definition, however, nor are temporary shifts in the relationships among its components as a result of cyclical developments.

3. SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ISSUE

The issue of structural change is important for national security because it encompasses some of the underlying forces shaping current economic and political developments, to which policy directly or indirectly responds.

The central thesis is that structural change almost inevitably has differential effects on different countries (and on regions within countries, as well as regions composed of several countries). Some nations will therefore fare better than others as they undergo structural change. The intelligence community has a responsibility to provide information and analysis to support policies ensuring the US position in the former category -- or at a minimum to anticipate and assess the possible consequences of being in the latter.

4. PROVISIONAL CONFERENCE AGENDA

DAY I. TECHNOLOGY AND STRUCTURAL CHANGE

Moderator: DI/OGI

- 8:30 - 9:00 Coffee and pastries
- 9:00 - 9:10 Welcoming remarks
William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
- 9:10 - 9:30 Keynote for Day I
"Defining the Problem: The Inevitability of Structural Change"
Leo Cherne
President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board
- 9:30 - 9:50 Underlying Forces: Determinants of Structural Change
Overview: C. Fred Bergsten
Director, Institute for International Economics
- 9:50 - 10:10 Structural Change and International Competitiveness
Overview: Rimmer deVries
Chief Economist, Morgan Guaranty Bank
- 10:10 - 10:30 Break
- 10:30 - 11:15 Panel discussion:
William Branson, Princeton University
J. David Richardson, University of Wisconsin
Roy Moor, First Chicago Bank
 DI/OGI
- 11:15 - 12:00 Open discussion (all conference participants)
- 12:00 - 1:00 Lunch (Speaker: Bruce Nussbaum, author of The World After Oil)

- 1:30 - 1:50 Structural Change, Adjustment and Protectionism:
The Coming Trade Wars?
Overview: Peter G. Peterson
Chairman, Lehman Brothers Kuhn Loeb
- 1:50 - 2:35 Panel discussion:
Robert E. Baldwin, University of Wisconsin
Robert Hormats, Goldman Sachs
Howard Rosen, Institute for International Economics
- 2:35 - 3:05 Open discussion
- 3:05 - 3:25 Break
- 3:25 - 3:45 Implications of Structural Change for Third World
Economies: Winners and Losers
Overview: Anne O. Krueger
Vice President, The World Bank
- 3:45 - 4:30 Panel discussion:
Kent Calder, Princeton University
Guy Erb, Overseas Development Council
[] DI/OGI
- 4:30 - 5:00 Open discussion
- 5:00 - 6:30 Cocktails

DAY II. GEOPOLITICAL IMPLICATIONS OF STRUCTURAL CHANGE
Moderator: [] DI/OGI

- 8:30 - 9:00 Coffee and pastries
- 9:00 - 9:20 Keynote for Day II
"Assessing Structural Change from the Standpoint of Intelligence Analysis"
James R. Schlesinger
Georgetown Center for Strategic and International Studies
- 9:20 - 9:40 Implications of Structural Change for the Western Alliance
Overview: Robert Gilpin
Princeton University
- 9:40 - 10:25 Panel discussion:
Henry Owen, Consultants International Group
William Diebold, Council on Foreign Relations
[] DI/EURA

10:25 - 10:45 Break

10:45 - 11:30 Open discussion

11:45 - 12:45 Lunch (Speaker: James Fallows, author of "The Changing American Economic Landscape")

1:00 - 1:20 Structural Change and East-West Relations
Overview: Joseph S. Nye, Jr.
Harvard University

1:20 - 2:00 Panel discussion:
Kenneth N. Waltz, University of California, Berkeley
Franklyn D. Holzman, Tufts University
[redacted] DI/SOVA

2:00 - 2:30 Open discussion

2:30 - 2:50 Break

2:50 - 3:10 Structural Change and National Security:
Implications for Strategic Vulnerability and Dependence
Overview: Richard DeLauer formerly Under Secretary of Defense for Research and Engineering

3:10 - 3:55 Panel discussion:
Ruben F. Mettler, TRW Inc.
Stephen Krasner, Stanford University
[redacted] DI/OGI

3:55 - 4:20 Open discussion

4:20 - 4:30 Concluding remarks
John N. McMahon
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

ER

The Director of Central Intelligence

Washington, D.C. 20505

23 APR 1985

The Honorable George P. Shultz
Secretary of State
Washington, D.C.

Dear George:

Thank you for inviting me to speak to the National Foreign Policy Conference for Senior Business Executives at the Department of State on 23 April. Unfortunately, I am unable to join you. My Office of Public Affairs has so advised the Conference Coordinator.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey

☐ William J. Casey

STAT

DCI/PAO/GVLauder:rh ☐ (15 Apr 85)

STAT

Distribution:

- Orig - Addressee
① - ER 85-1173
1 - PAO Reg. 85-0217
1 - ☐
1 - PAO Chrono
1 - PAO Subject (MED)

STAT

B-300

EXECUTIVE SECRETARIAT
ROUTING SLIP

TO:		ACTION	INFO	DATE	INITIAL
	1 DCI		X
	2 DDCI
	3 EXDIR
	4 D/ICS
	5 DDI		X
	6 DDA
	7 DDO		X
	8 DDS&T
	9 Chm/NIC
	10 GC
	11 IG
	12 Compt
	13 D/Pers
	14 D/OLL
	15 D/PAO	X
	16 SA/IA
	17 AO/DCI
	18 C/IPD/OIS
	19 NIO
	20 VC/NIC		X
	21
	22
	SUSPENSE			16 Apr 85
				Date

Remarks

TO #15: Please prepare a response for DCI signature.

Executive Secretary

10 Apr 85

Date

3637 (10-81)

DCI
EXEC
REG

B-300

1173

THE SECRETARY OF STATE
WASHINGTON

April 9, 1985

Dear Bill:

I am hosting a National Foreign Policy Conference for Senior Business Executives in the Department of State on April 23, 1985. This is an annual event which attracts top business executives of major U.S. corporations doing business overseas. The Conference will focus on major foreign policy and economic issues of interest to the business community. Approximately 250 chairmen, presidents, chief executive officers (or their designated representatives) are expected to attend.

I am pleased to invite you to address this Conference on international terrorism (or a subject of your choice) at 4:30-5:15 p.m. in our Loy Henderson Conference Room. (If some other time is more convenient for you that day, we will be glad to rearrange the program to accommodate your schedule.) You might wish to devote 15-20 minutes to opening remarks with the remaining time left for response to conferees' questions. The Conference ground rule is ON-THE-RECORD. Representatives of media accredited to the White House and State Department will be admitted on request. We will arrange for a different ground rule for your presentation if you wish.

I also would be pleased if you could join me at a 6:00 to 7:30 p.m. reception I am hosting for the executives in our Diplomatic Reception Rooms on the eighth floor.

Please have your office inform the conference coordinator, Betty Christiana at 632-3161, whether you will be able to participate in the Conference and attend the reception.

Sincerely yours,

George P. Shultz

The Honorable
William J. Casey,
Director of Central Intelligence.

83

02441:85

22 APR 1985

MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Director
VIA: Deputy Director for Intelligence
STAT FROM:
Director of Global Issues
SUBJECT: Approval for External OGI-Sponsored Conferences

Your approval is requested for the Office of Global Issues to sponsor the following external unclassified conferences:

- Attachment A - Economic and Security Implications of Structural Change, The Washington Hilton; Estimated Cost is $8,000.00 (3-4 June 1985);
- Attachment B - Conference on the Military in Politics (assemble set of indicators on likelihood of coups) The International Club; Estimated Cost is $2,500.00 (29 April 1985)

STAT The agenda and Request for Procurement Services (Form 2420), which includes cost estimates for each of the conferences is attached.

Attachments:
As Stated

CONCUR:

23 APR 1985

STAT Jim Deputy Director for Intelligence

Date

Although expensive these are important conferences.

APPROVAL:

Dec

STAT
Executive Director

4/25/85
Date

b-300

SUBJECT: Approval for External OGI-Sponsored Conferences

Distribution:

Original - Addressee
1 - Executive Registry
1 - DDI
1 - DDI Registry
1 - D/OGI
1 - C/OGI/Admin.
1 - OGI/Contracts Officer

STAT

OGI/ExStaff (22 April 1985)

ADMINISTRATIVE - INTERNAL USE ONLY